

2021 Impact Report

Widespread health inequities and structural racism deeply impact the ability of migrants, immigrants, and asylum seekers to access quality care when they need it.

Migrant Clinicians Network (MCN) is changing that. MCN, a national 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, works diligently and unceasingly to identify and close the gaps in health care that migrants, immigrants, and asylum seekers face -- often at the most precarious moments in their lives.

EMERGING ISSUES: COVID-19

MCN accelerated our educational offerings and development of multilingual resources to support community partners. We kept clinicians and community organizers informed on the changing environment of COVID-19 and the needs of hard-to-reach and at-risk populations who are affected by health disparities and inequities heightened by the pandemic.

Our projects covered

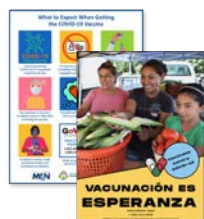

- COVID-19 education
- Vaccine access
- Community outreach
- Mental health

Capacity building to support communities to:

- Address the pandemic;
- Build long-term resilience;
- Advance health equity.

WITNESS TO WITNESS / CLINICIAN SUPPORT

The US health care and service provider workforce, always under pressure, is exhausted, overwhelmed and angry. Attrition rates are higher than ever. The Witness to Witness (W2W) program supports these dedicated people by attuned listening, pointing them to multiple sources of resilience, and presenting the keys to reasonable hope.

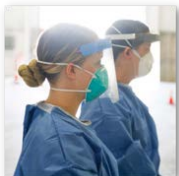

In 2021, W2W provided:

- Online Seminars
- Peer Support Groups
- Learning Collaborative for Managers

2021 Highlights:

- Resources: 34 resources developed in English, 11 in Spanish.
- Internal Support: For MCN staff, W2W created three listening circles, three support groups, and two support groups per month for Health Network Associates
- External Support: 14 online seminars; six peer support groups; four learning collaborations for managers, and 10 consultations.
